JESSICA & TONY Going Strong!

Denying split rumors, the duo take a romantic trip

WHAT BREAKUP? JESSICA Simpson's rep was fuming after the tabloid OK! reported that the singer, 27, and her Dallas Cowboys quarterback beau, Tony Romo, 27, had called it quits. Her publicist, Cindi Berger, tells Us, "That rag completely fabricated and made up this story. I've spoken to both Jess and Tony and they are completely secure in their relationship and won't let this garbage get under their skin." Simpson's lawyers even sent a letter to OK! demanding a retraction. (OK! refused to comment.) Brushing off the rumors, the pair headed to the luxe Rancho Las Palmas Resort & Spa in Rancho Mirage, California, on January 26, chowed down at Fleming's Steakhouse and, the next night, ate at the Yard House. Says a Simpson source, "They are together and happy."

Romo "adores Jessica," says a pal.

The resort boasts a 27-hole golf course and a 20,000-square-foot spa.

"Tony has become her world," a source says of Simpson (on Jan. 13 in L.A.).
